

General Optical Council - Clinical Adviser

Information pack for applicants

Contents

1. Introduction	2
2. Overview	2
3. Role and responsibilities of a GOC Clinical Adviser	4
4. Person Specification: essential and desirable competences	4
5. How to apply	6
6. Once we receive your application	8
7. Equality, diversity and inclusion	9
8. Data protection	10
9. Dealing with your concerns	11

1. Introduction

We are the regulator for the optical professions in the UK. Our purpose is to protect the public by promoting high standards of education, performance and conduct amongst opticians. We currently register around 32,000 optometrists, dispensing opticians, student opticians and optical businesses.

We have four core functions:

- Setting standards for optical education and training, performance, and conduct.
- Approving qualifications leading to registration.
- Maintaining a register of individuals who are qualified and fit to practise, train, or carry on business as optometrists and dispensing opticians.
- Investigating and acting where registrants' fitness to practise, train or carry on business is impaired.

It is absolutely essential for both public protection and confidence in the professions that the General Optical Council (GOC) provides a high quality, robust and fair service across all its core functions.

The Fitness to Practise Committee hears cases where a registrant's fitness to practise is in question, considers allegations, hears oral evidence and take decisions including sanctions.

The Registration Appeals Committee considers appeals against decisions relating to applications for registration. When a case concerns a registrant's physical or mental health, a clinical adviser is selected from a pool based on their area of expertise and the details of the case, to sit with the Committee and advise them on any matters within their area of expertise.

This information pack provides details of the role, information on the GOC, details of how to apply and information regarding the appointments process as well as further detail about the timetable.

2. Overview

Main purpose of the Clinical Adviser role

To advise the GOC statutory committees when they consider cases relating to a registrant's health.

Timeline

The key timeline for this recruitment exercise are set out below*:

Stage	Timeline
Application deadline	26 July 2023 (noon)
Notifying applicants who are invited to interview	By 4 August 2023
Interviews (remote via MS Teams)	w/c 8 August 2023

[*please note that timelines may be subject to change depending on the volume of responses]

Competencies required

Applicants will need to demonstrate that they have the necessary skills and competencies for the role as specified in section 4.

Eligibility

Please carefully read the information about potential conflicts of interest before you submit an application.

Remuneration

Daily attendance fee: £300 per day

Training day attendance: £223 per day

plus reasonable expenses in line with the GOC's expenses policy.

Time commitment

Clinical Advisers are drawn from a pool to advise committee members considering the case, subject to availability and case workflow at the GOC's discretion. The number of days' commitment for Clinical Advisers is dependent on the number of hearings taking place, but Clinical Advisers should be available for at least 10 hearings per year.

Please note that a guarantee of a minimum number of days' attendance during the appointment period cannot be given. In addition, the GOC is not obliged to offer you work under this agreement.

Conflicts of interest

Business or personal interests that might be relevant to our work, and which could lead to a real or perceived conflict of interest were you to be appointed, should be declared at the application stage. You should also declare if you have any close personal relationships with GOC or committee members, hearing panel members or employees (including case examiners). Any actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interest will be fully explored by the Selection Panel at shortlisting and interview stage and applicants will be given an opportunity to explain how they would manage or eliminate the conflict. It is possible that certain conflicts will not be manageable or might be dealt with as a condition of appointment (for example, an applicant needing to terminate their conflicting activity in order to take up the role).

If you wish to discuss an actual or potential conflict of interest before submitting your application, please email Terence Yates (hearings@optical.org).

Key contacts

For more information about the selection process, please email Terence Yates (hearings@optical.org) and we will aim respond to your query within 48 hours.

3. Role and responsibilities of a GOC Clinical Adviser

Description of main services

- Attend statutory committee hearings to advise the Committee as they consider allegations against registrants where physical or mental health is under consideration.
- Read and assimilate papers before hearings.

The role of the clinical adviser is to advise the Fitness to Practise Committee on any matters within their area of medical expertise, and to intervene if there is a possibility of a mistake being made. The clinical adviser should answer questions the Committee may have about medical conditions or health-related matters that apply to the case.

The clinical adviser can ask questions of any witness, with the permission of the Chair of the Committee, on matters relating to the physical and/or mental health of the registrant.

4. Person Specification: essential and desirable competences required

Candidates are required to provide on the application form examples of how their experience matches the competences required to be effective in the role. For applicants who have a similar level of skills, knowledge and experience evidenced against the essential competences, an assessment against the desirable competences will be made in order to rank applications. Therefore, candidates who provide evidence that also support the desirable competences may be even better positioned to demonstrate that they meet the challenges of the position.

Candidates who are shortlisted for interview will need to demonstrate they have these competences.

The successful applicant will be able to demonstrate:

Essential criteria

- Currently registered doctor with a license to practise in Great Britain
- At least 3 post-qualification years' experience in particular specialty.
- Membership of the relevant Royal College
- Experience of evaluating evidence and providing objective and unbiased opinion.
- Experience of working collaboratively with a broad range of people.

Essential competencies

Understanding of law, procedure, committee function and own role

- An understanding of the application of relevant legislation and the GOC's relevant Rules, policies and procedures, or the ability to quickly acquire it.
- Commitment to learn and develop professionally; maintenance of up-to-date qualifications and specialisms in own field.
- Able to understand and assimilate the facts, arguments and allegations, and can recall such material speedily and accurately and seek appropriate points of clarification where necessary.
- Able to answer specific medical questions and offer advice on the nature, consequences and natural progress of the medical condition disclosed in the reports or records and explain the medical evidence available, without diagnosis

Professionalism and personal qualities

- Calm, patient, tolerant and non-confrontational manner, even if provoked.
- Willing to give and receive constructive feedback and to learn from others; commitment to review own performance regularly, adapting skills and approach to improve personal effectiveness.
- A level of sensitivity which reflects the serious nature of proceedings, including appropriate concern for distressed parties and witnesses.
- Generates trust, confidence and respect in others.
- High standards of probity, integrity, tact and discretion, recognises and discloses any conflict of interest, with an appreciation of and commitment to the Nolan Principles of Public Life: - Selflessness, Integrity, Objectivity, Accountability, Openness, Honesty and Leadership.

Communication and conduct of hearing

- Good time management, punctuality and presentation skills.
- Able to concentrate for long periods of time.
- Listens actively to evidence/submissions, avoids assumptions, checks understanding with others and shares information, working collaboratively with panel.
- Accurately and concisely records relevant points from evidence and discussion.
- Articulates views clearly and concisely, orally and in writing; clearly explains medical terms to lay panel members and registrants in an understandable way.
- Manages the unexpected appropriately.

Understands and values diversity and equality and deals with people fairly

- Unwavering commitment to equality, diversity & inclusion, impartiality and fair treatment
- Appreciation of and respect for:

- cultural and other differences among all involved at a meeting or hearing, including protected characteristics under the Equality Act 2010
- the needs of parties with physical/mental disabilities or who are otherwise vulnerable.
- Aware of own biases (conscious and unconscious) and manages these appropriately
- Exhibits impartial facial expression, body language and gestures
- Able to present a fair and balanced view based on all the information presented.

Desirable criteria

- Experience of giving advice to tribunals or similar bodies.

Areas of expertise

We invite applications from medical professionals from a range of backgrounds but specifically those who specialise in the following areas:

- Occupational medicine
- Schizophrenia and schizophrenic related disorders
- Bipolar disorder
- Depression
- Substance (drug/alcohol) dependence and misuse
- Ophthalmology
- Multiple Sclerosis
- General practitioners with a specialist interest in one of the above

5. How to apply

Application form and the EDI monitoring form can be downloaded from our website.

We highly recommend you read this pack, paying particular attention to the competences required, before starting to complete your application form, so you can take this into account when writing your competency statements.

We recommend you allow ample time to complete and review the application form. Please do not assume the Selection Panel will rate your application based on your CV. Make sure you include plenty of evidence in your application form.

Please send your completed application, with a CV, (no more than 2 A4 sides) and a completed EDI monitoring form, to hearings@optical.org by 12:00pm (noon) on 26 July 2023.

Your CV should outline your employment history (max ten years), any relevant voluntary work, public service or other experience, together with any relevant professional, academic or vocational qualifications. Your CV will be used to assist the assessment of your expertise but it will not be used as a substitute for fully completing the application form. Please note that CVs alone will not be accepted.

The EDI monitoring form will be separated from your application form prior to shortlisting. We are committed to ensuring equality and diversity and completion of this form is a mandatory requirement of the application

To ensure fairness to all candidates, any additional information you provide will be removed from your application (for example, cover letters, appraisals, examples of work, etc.).

How to complete competency-based answers in the application form

We generally recommend using the STARR (Situation, Task, Action, Result, Reflection) approach when responding to competency-based questions and there are a lot of helpful websites that explain how to answer questions using this technique. Providing competency statements is important because the Selection Panel will use them to assess your suitability for the role. It is not sufficient to say that you have the relevant experience – you should show evidence of making a success of that experience by describing how you acted in particular scenarios, and what effect those actions had.

For each competency, think about and consider providing examples which:

- can be used to demonstrate how you meet the competency;
- allow you to explain in some detail your individual involvement and role in the matter;
- had a positive impact (less successful examples are just as acceptable but you may wish to reflect in your answer the lessons learned);
- clearly identify the impact of your actions; and
- can allow you to highlight other key skills or knowledge mentioned in the candidate pack (if possible).

By using the recommended approach to each competency, it will help you break down the “300-word limit” into four or five manageable chunks. The majority of your 300 words should be on the Action and Results (and Reflection when appropriate).

We recommend you do not leave an answer box blank. By leaving it blank you indicate that you do not (or cannot) meet the competency.

Reviewing your application

It is helpful to review your application before submission, considering whether you:

- have included everything that you needed to;
- have included anything irrelevant or repetitive;
- are able to re-write your statements to adhere to the 300-word limit, without losing any necessary information; and/or
- whether you could use bullet points to summarise.

Interview stage

Competencies required to fulfil the role will be tested at interview. Applicants who are shortlisted for interview will need to show that they have the essential competencies required to be effective in the role.

6. Once we receive your application

We will process your application as quickly as possible and will keep you informed at key stages. Please read the information below carefully, which outlines important information and our process once we receive your application:

- We will acknowledge receipt of your application (by email if provided) within two working days and check it for completeness and eligibility. If we are unable to open or print your application or your application is incomplete, you will be contacted immediately. If we then do not receive your application by the specified time, it will be assumed you are no longer interested in the role.
- Candidates shortlisted for interview will be notified no later than one week before interviews. If you have not heard from us by this date, please assume you have not been invited to interview although this will be confirmed to you via email. Please note that feedback will generally only be available to candidates who attend interview but are not appointed.
- Interviews will take place virtually using the Microsoft teams platform.
- Where a candidate is unable to attend an interview on the published dates, the Selection Panel may consider a new date, but this is at their discretion. There is one contingency day mentioned above on the 3 August 2023.
- If invited to interview, the selection panel will ask questions about your experience and expertise to explore how you meet the competences as set out in the person specification.
- All candidates who have been interviewed will be notified of the outcome once the final decision has been made, which we expect to be during the week following interviews.
- If the Selection Panel are satisfied you have demonstrated that your skills and experience match the competences required for this position, you will be offered provisional appointment, subject to references.
- References for candidates who are offered appointment will be taken up following acceptance. An appointment will not be confirmed until the GOC has received two satisfactory references.
- On appointment, you will receive further information about training and induction.

If you have any questions, please email them to Terence Yates at hearings@optical.org and we will aim to respond to you within 48 hours.

Should you wish to contact us by mail or by telephone, our contact details are:

Address: General Optical Council, 10 Old Bailey, London, EC4M 7NG

Tel: 020 7871 0411

7. Equality, diversity and inclusion

We believe that for any organisation to be successful, it needs to work with the most talented and diverse people available. We positively encourage applications from people of all backgrounds and with a broad range of experience. We strive to be as diverse and inclusive as the public we protect and welcome applications from qualified applicants, regardless of age, disability, gender identity, race/ethnicity, religion or belief, sexual orientation, marriage or civil partnership, and those pregnant or on maternity leave. We undertake that your application will be dealt with fairly and that all decisions we make about it will be based on merit and your ability to meet the person specification.

To ensure all candidates are treated fairly, we monitor diversity at all stages of the appointments process taking information from the monitoring form submitted on application. Information provided is treated as strictly confidential and will be used for monitoring purposes only. It will not be seen by anyone directly involved in the selection process. It will not be treated as part of your application, but completion and submission of the monitoring form is a mandatory requirement of application. No information will be published in any way which allows any individuals to be identified. Our approach to monitoring and information gathered from application processes is published annually, on our website in our monitoring report.

We have signed up to the Equality and Human Rights Commission's \(EHRC\) Working Forward pledge, which promotes key standards for inclusive policies and processes for pregnant women or those on maternity leave. We also consider the same standards will be applicable for paternity or shared parental leave. We are committed to ensuring excellent flexible working arrangements.

If you would like to discuss your requirements for reasonable adjustments at any stage of the recruitment process in more detail, please contact us on 0207 307 3461. If you would like more information on reasonable adjustments, please see the EHRC website.

8. Data protection

Our information governance framework and associated policies are published on our website. We are required to retain information about the people who apply for public appointments and make this available for audit purposes, if requested to do so. We hold the information we collect in respect of public appointments as per our retention schedule and then securely destroy it. This includes:

- initial contact details, including your name and address;
- application form and any supporting documentation; and
- EDI monitoring information.

This information is used to process your application and appointment if successful.

Some of the information requested on the application form will be made public if you are appointed (your name, brief career/background history, other public appointments held, any other information that it is in the public interest to disclose). As a public body, we may be required to release information to the public on request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000. However, we will not permit any unwarranted breach of confidentiality or privacy nor will we act in contravention of our obligations under the Data Protection Act 2018.

The GOC, as the data controller, holds personal and sensitive information relating to you, which is held and processed to fulfil contractual requirements as stated in the GOC's privacy statement, in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2018 and all other appropriate data protection legislation.

To enable us to complete this function, we hold personal and special category data which includes health records, financial information as well as equality monitoring and next of kin information where this has been provided.

We share member personal or financial information with relevant third parties when it is necessary to fulfil our statutory functions, for example in assurance checks, financial arrangements and other contractual activities like training administration or health and safety reporting, or within our legitimate interests.

“Processing” includes anything that can be done with or in relation to data. It includes collection, recording, storage and operational handling of the data including organising, erasing and disclosure.

During your term of office with the GOC you may have access to personal and sensitive personal data relating to other employees, members and/or registrants. By accepting the role, you agree to comply with the GOC's Information Governance Framework and Policies Handbook and act in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2018 and all other appropriate data protection legislation at all times.

Under Data Protection laws, you have the right to request:

- information about how your personal data is processed and to request a copy of that personal data known as a Subject Access Request.
- that any inaccuracies in your personal data are rectified without delay.
- your personal data is erased if there is no longer a legal justification for them to be processed.
- in certain circumstances, to request that the processing of your personal data is restricted.
- to object to the processing of your personal data where it is processed for direct marketing purposes. If you wish to further discuss how we use your information, please do not hesitate to contact our Compliance Team via foi@optical.org or telephone 020 7580 3898

9. Dealing with your concerns

We aim to process all applications as quickly as possible and in accordance with our appointments process which will be applied consistently to all applicants. However, if you have a complaint at any stage about the processes used in this appointment campaign, please refer to our policy on complaints and feedback about the GOC which provides guidance on what can and cannot be considered and how to raise concerns. In the first instance, you should raise your concern/complaint informally within 48 hours.

You can raise your concern by letter (10 Old Bailey, London, EC4M 7NG), email corporatecomplaints@optical.org or telephone 020 7580 3898