Foreword

2020-21 marks the first year of our new five-year strategic plan 'Fit for the Future' and within this business plan, we outline the work programmes we aim to deliver to achieve our vision of being recognised for delivering world-class regulation and excellent customer service.

2020 has proven to be an unprecedented time for the optical professions in light of the COVID-19 emergency, and we could not have anticipated that our plans would be published during such extraordinary circumstances. Therefore, some aspects may need to be delayed and others may accelerate. For that reason, this plan will be kept under continual review.

The challenges and opportunities that are affecting our work include external influences such as:

- An ageing population and new treatments.
- Technological developments may affect our regulatory work.
- Increasing multi-disciplinary approaches to patient care across the NHS and commissioned services.
- Growth in online and remote provision of services and a workforce that seeks even greater flexibility in their working hours and practices.
- Changing business models as employers and businesses adapt to new technology and customer preferences.
- Political and international developments such as the impact of Brexit and COVID-19.

Over the coming year we will continue to complete and embed the Education Strategic Review (ESR) which will enable us to maintain public protection as the roles of registrants evolve. This review project will continue apace, transforming the way that optical students are taught. We've heard so much from the sector over the last two years about the need to change and now is the time for us to start implementing that with concrete proposals to equip students for the roles of the future.

Reforming our approach to Continuing Education and Training (CET) is just as important to ensure that our registrants are engaged in high quality career-long learning that enables them to adapt to a changing environment.

We will also be looking at ourselves as we continue our efficiency programme. We know we need to streamline and speed up our approach to fitness to practise and this remains a top priority. To support that and improve our service to registrants, we will continue to work on our IT infrastructure to help us provide an efficient and good-value service to the public and to registrants. And we will continue to make the case to Government for legislative reform that will help us to operate even more effectively.

Lesley Longstone, Chief Executive and Registrar

Introduction

The General Optical Council (GOC) is the UK-wide regulator for optometrists and dispensing opticians, student optometrists and dispensing opticians and optical businesses. We exist to protect the public by raising standards in the optical professions.

Our regulatory functions are:

- Setting the standards expected of optometrists, dispensing opticians, optical businesses and students
- Maintaining a register of those who are qualified and fit to practise, to train or carry on business as optometrists and dispensing opticians
- Investigating and acting where registrants' fitness to practise, to train or carry on business is impaired
- Setting the standards for education and approving qualifications leading to registration

Our mission, vision and values

Our 'Fit for the future' strategy for 1 April 2020 to 31 March 2025 describes what we plan to do over the next five years to achieve our vision of being recognised for delivering world-class regulation and excellent customer service.

Our mission is...

to protect the public by upholding high standards in the optical professions

Our vision is...

to be recognised for delivering world-class regulation and excellent customer service

Our values

The interests of patients and the general public are at the heart of all we do, and we aspire to the timeless seven (Nolan) public sector principles of public life (selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty and leadership).

Our values underpin the way we work with each other, and with the public, our registrants and partner organisations:

We act with integrity

We pursue excellence

We respect other people and ideas

We show empathy

We behave fairly

We are agile and responsive to change

3. Continuing Education and Training (CET) Review

We will be introducing changes to our Continuing Education and Training (CET) scheme to make it more flexible and less prescriptive, allowing registrants greater freedom to reflect on their own learning needs and undertake learning and development which is relevant to their own personal scope of practice and career goals. This includes consulting on changing the name to Continuing Professional Development (CPD).

We will also review the way we deal with exceptional circumstances such as maternity and illness which may affect registrants ability to complete CET. Our aim is to phase in the reforms over the next three years.

4. Legislative Reform

We will implement new legislation, once this is enacted, to establish a unitary board and will consult on how to exercise new powers that the board will have to set rules in all parts of our regulatory activity. Wherever possible we will do this jointly with other regulators to develop greater coherence and to benefit from one another's experiences. We will also ensure that we gain appropriate expert input, building on our recently established Advisory Panel, which brings together all our advisory committees. We will continue to manage any potential conflicts of interest in line with our policy available on our website: www.optical.org

5. Customer service strategy

We will develop a customer service strategy to make it easier for patients, the public, registrants and other customers to work with us. This will include developing our relationships with internal and external stakeholders and working in partnership with specialist organisations where appropriate. In developing our customer engagement strategy we will consider the needs of patients, the public and other customers, particularly those who may be more vulnerable or where we need to provide appropriate mechanisms to engage them because of physical or other barriers.

6. Fitness to Practise (FTP) improvement programme

We will address our long-standing issues with timeliness in FTP, taking advantage of the opportunities new legislation will provide and utilising opportunities for developing new rules and approaches jointly with other regulators.

We will review and modernise all our processes and where appropriate make best use of resources, maximise efficiency and ensure value for money. In doing so, we will explore why some groups of registrants are more likely than others to proceed to formal proceedings when a complaint is raised with us and take further action as appropriate.

We will develop a learning culture to ensure that risks, issues and good practice identified through our regulatory work are fed back into all parts of the organisation. We will achieve this through better collection and analysis of our own data and that of others. For example, learning from our fitness to practise cases, whether they progress to a hearing or not, can inform our standards, guidance and professional development. We will also share this learning proactively with registrants and their representative bodies in order to prevent public harm, including a new regular learning bulletin.

We will explore using thematic reviews of areas of identified or perceived risk, taking account of concerns raised by members of the public and registrants as well as through the outcomes of fitness to practise cases. We will seek to understand the risks associated with vulnerable patients, particularly those who are seen in domiciliary settings.

In our development of a learning culture, we will ensure that we are able to capture and share learning of the impacts of our role on those with different protected characteristics, including where there are specific impacts related to intersectionality.

Continuous improvement

7. Investment in our IT infrastructure

We will complete the investment in our information technology (IT) infrastructure within the timeframe of the business plan. IT forms the foundations for everything we do and over the last two years we have made significant investment in IT to improve the GOC's infrastructure, resilience and security. We will complete this journey by giving the GOC a business platform centred on the cloud-based Microsoft Office 365. From this, our Customer Relationship Management (CRM) systems will be developed to deliver working practice improvements and efficiencies, ensuring that we continue to keep information safe and secure and that our staff's time is focused on value-added activities.

In completing the investment in our IT infrastructure, we will ensure accessibility of our new website, with a primary focus on those with sight impairment and we will continue the work we have begun to capture more and better data on a wider range of protected characteristics to help inform and shape our regulatory work.

8. People plan and efficiency programme

We will develop and implement a people plan to make the GOC a great place to work. The investment in our IT infrastructure will enable our staff to work in an agile and flexible way, providing staff with a more positive work-life balance. This will be supported by the ongoing work to modernise our human resources policies, with continued well-being initiatives and learning, training and development programmes to recruit and retain our talented staff.

In developing and implementing our people plan and efficiency programme, we will demonstrate our commitment to EDI by implementing an EDI leadership plan and other recommendations arising from our EDI review.

We will also deliver and embed our efficiency programme to maximise value for money and fund the new things we want to do without asking for more funds from our registrants. This will include seeking process improvements across the organisation.
